Governor Brown Requests Presidential Major Disaster Declaration, Offers Additional South Napa Earthquake Recovery Assistance

Moving to help communities recover from the South Napa Earthquake, Governor Edmund G. Brown Jr. today requested a Presidential Major Disaster Declaration for the state and issued an Executive Order to help cut red tape and provide additional financial assistance.

A Presidential Major Disaster Declaration triggers the release of Federal funds to help communities recover and the Executive Order provides additional financial assistance to local agencies and non-profit organizations and ensures residents can replace important documents and access key services without shouldering additional costs or other burdens.

SITUATION SUMMARY

Power and Utilities

Per CUEA:

- All communications functioning in normal range, AT&T has a COLT (cell on light truck) and mobile charging trailer on site in downtown Napa.
- PG&E strike teams deployed to provide welfare checks to the community for isolated power outages for Napa and damaged areas.

Water (as of 09/05/14)

- As of September 4, 2014, all water main leaks associated with the event have been repaired. They have resumed their typical main leak response levels (2-inch laterals). (Note: the distribution losses are back to normal ~ 8%.)
- Napa Sanitation District (Napa County is responsible for the City of Napa service area) – SWRCB has requested an update to get a picture of the progress and mapping of the sewer main breaks.
- St. Helena Hospital – Tank cleaning completed, 09/05/14. To date, all water quality samples indicate no total coliform or E. coli activity. Initial storage tank turbidity measured 37 NTU on the day of the earthquake and dropped to 25 NTU last Friday during our inspection six days later. Staff were able to work with the operators and conclude that the storage tank was the origin of the turbidity problem. Following the tank cleaning, turbidity has come down to 9.9 NTU. Note: $\frac{3}{4}$ of the suspended particles were 10 um or less in size on August 29, 2014. The facilities manager plans to send us a copy of the public notice planned for distribution.
- Meyers Water Company (community, 97 connections) (and neighbor Milton Road & Water Company, community with 24 connections) – They are eligible for emergency funding to install 28,000 gallons of storage and a generator. The Company has reached out to its neighbor (recent WQ impacts to their source were detected that related to the earthquake) to consider long-term options. The two companies are engaged in discussing a possible consolidation, which would ultimately lead to increased source and storage reliability for both water systems. SWRCB is supporting any effort to consider these long-term options (likely CA SRF funds) while being clear on the short-term (P84 Emergency Funding) options.
- City of Napa (Browns Valley Pressure Zone, 1,800 connections) – The City has worked with customers to minimize peak demands and has a contingency plan (labor intensive) to get through the weekend if the pump fails. To address these immediate needs, SWRCB is working on an emergency grant to provide the following: (1) 2 x variable frequency drive pumps, (2) emergency generator, and (3) a temporary cover on a structurally compromised tank. There are pressure recorders at two locations in the distribution system to monitor Browns Valley – these may be utilized in the near future to monitor any repairs made in the vicinity of sewer main breaks. To date, 140 bacteriological samples were collected following the event and no E. coli was detected in the distribution system.

WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

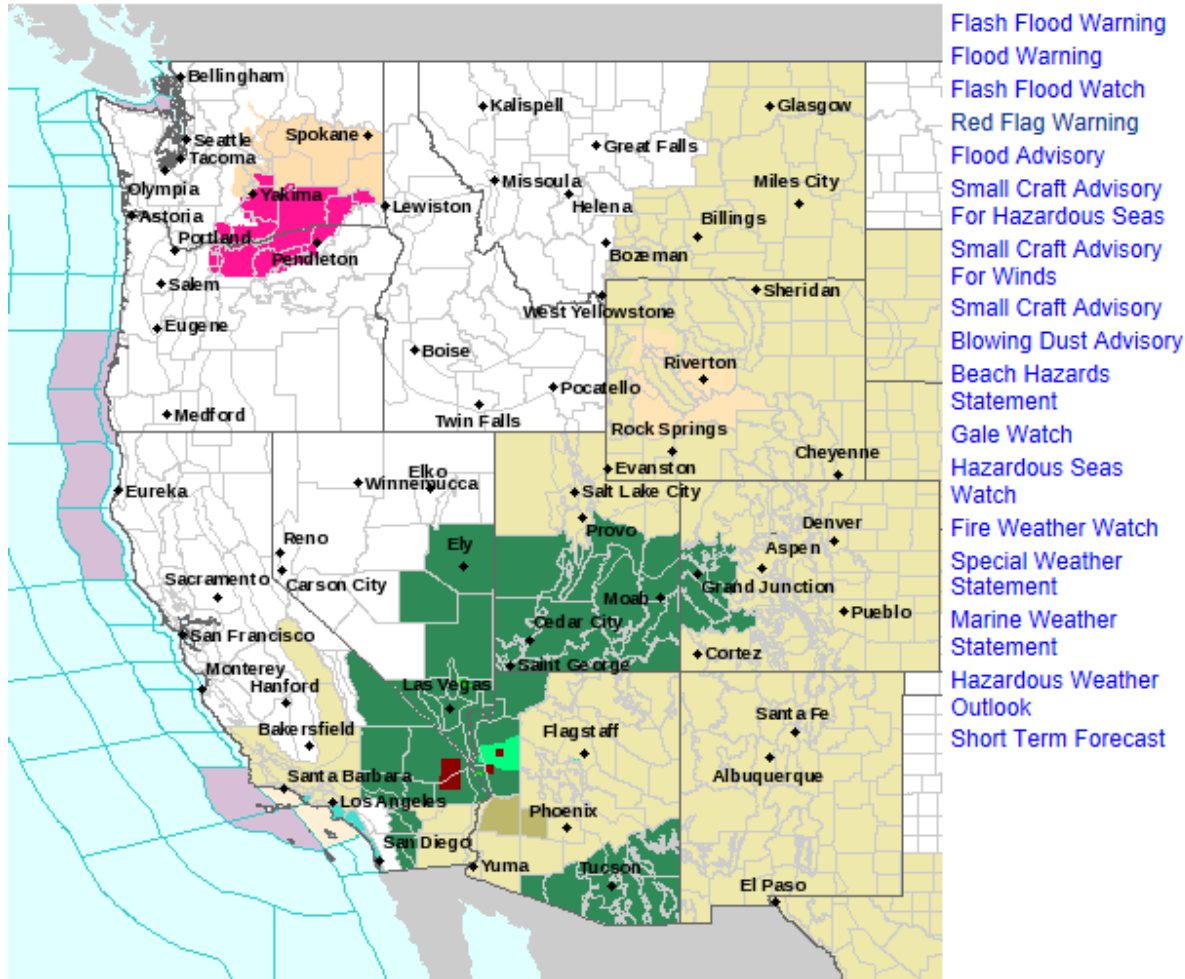

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

A weak, dry trough will be over us through Monday before it moves east. We will have a few days of westerly to southerly winds with a bit cooler temperatures inland. A high pressure ridge will then take over the weather pattern Tuesday into next weekend and beyond. Some moderately strong northerly winds are expected to develop again Tuesday night, but then be lighter and more easterly the rest of the 7 day period. In general, afternoon max temperatures inland will continue to be above normal for the time of year. Overnight lows will vary, but generally be seasonably cool, especially in valleys and drainage bottoms. Thermal belt conditions are likely to become somewhat more pronounced as the week progresses with poor to only moderate Relative Humidity recovery mid and upper slopes and perhaps overnight lows a little above normal. The marine layer will remain moderately deep along the coast for a few days before it begins to thin and retreat under the high pressure ridge and off shore flow later in the week.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Moisture from the remnants of Hurricane Norbert will bring periods of showers and thunderstorms to Southern California through Tuesday afternoon. Scattered showers and isolated thunderstorms will move across Central California tonight through Monday afternoon. Temperatures will remain around 5 degrees above normal today under high pressure, with 80s in the mountains and 90s to 102 in the valleys. Minimum humidity will continue to be in the single digits and teens across Central California away from the coast today. A Pacific trough dropping down the coast will cool temperatures around 10 degrees and increase humidity to above 20% Monday and Tuesday. There will be westerly winds of 15 to 25 mph with gusts to 40 mph across the desert passes Monday afternoon and evening. High pressure building northward from Mexico will bring a slow warming and drying trend to the region Wednesday through next weekend. Isolated to scattered afternoon showers and thunderstorms will continue to be possible over the mountains and deserts of Southern California east of the Cajon Pass Wednesday through Friday.
